Kennedy Named Faculty Member of the Month

Roger L. Kennedy, senior flight instructor at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University and one of the first persons in the area to sponsor a Vietnamese family, has been named faculty member of the month for September.

A native of LeRoy, Mich., Kennedy spent his early adulthood at sea and became involved in flying only as a hobby at first.

After being graduated from high school he served a four year hitch in the Navy, in the engineering department. When he was discharged from the Navy in 1955, he joined the Merchant Marine, also in the engineering department.

He stayed at sea until 1964 learning to fly for fun between voyages.

Then his hobby turned into his livelihood as he went to work for a small fixed base operator in Central Michigan. His duties changed as he earned more advanced flight ratings. He was a crop duster, a mechanic, a charter pilot and an instructor.

A year later he started his own small FBO operation in Ionia, Mich., a venture which proved financially sound but became entangled in county politics.

Kennedy had heard about Embry-Riddle from the brother of one of his students in Michigan. In 1968, he left Michigan and politics behind to join the ERAU faculty.

He became a student as well as an instructor and earned the President's Award for Academic Excellence when he received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Aeronautical Science.

Kennedy and his wife, Linda, have six children, ranging in age from 11 to 20. In June they opened their home to a Vietnamese couple who spent two and a half months with them before getting settled in the area.

The experience has been rewarding for the whole family in "ways you just can't put a name to," Kennedy said. He gives most of the credit for initiating the invitation to the refugees to his wife. "She's a very charitable and concerned person," he said.

Both Kennedy and his wife spoke to local civic and church organizations to encourage sponsorship of other refugees. The Kennedys are active members of St. Paul's Catholic Church and were helped with the sponsorship of their new Vietnamese friends by Catholic Social Services.

As a sailor turned aviator, Kennedy still enjoys being on the water—but mostly as a fisherman in a rowboat. Gardening and wine making are two other hobbies.

Davis Issues Fund-Raising Challenge★★★★★★★★

A $40,000, two for one, fund raising challenge has been issued to Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University alumni and parents by Dr. Tine W. Davis, senior vice president of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc.

Davis, an ERAU trustee, has agreed to match-dollar for dollar-donations by the Alumni Association and the Parents Association in the next 12 months, up to a total of $10,000 from each group.

That means $40,000 for scholarships and low cost student loans when the goals are reached.

Davis holds an honorary doctorate in Aviation Management conferred by Embry-Riddle in 1969. The main building in the Gill Robb Wilson Memorial Flight Center at the university bears his name in testimonial to his continuing generosity to the cause of higher aviation education.

His interest in aviation is so strong, in fact, that it's the only thing which ever took him away from the nationally famous family grocery business. During World War II he took a leave of absence from Winn-Dixie to serve as a civilian flight instructor in the Navy V-5 program.

He is a member of the OX 5 Club and the Florida Pilots Club and a past governor and member of the Quiet Birdmen, Miami Hangar.

A native of Camellie, Ark., he attended the University of Florida and the University of Idaho. He lives in Montgomery, Ala., headquarters for his activities as regional director of the Montgomery, Louisville and New Orleans Divisions of the Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. and president of W-D Montgomery, Inc.; W-D Louisiana, Inc. and W-D Louisville, Inc.

"Let me come right to the point," said Davis in his challenge statement.

"As a trustee of Embry-Riddle

Aeronautical University I know the quality which makes it the world's best aviation university. I also know the great need for financial assistance to students in the form of loans and scholarship aid.

"With the hope that my assistance will encourage all alumni and parents to contribute to the university, I will match every dollar you give during the period of Sept. 1, 1975 to Aug. 31, 1976. My $20,000 commitment is to match the first $10,000 received from alumni and the first $10,000 from parents during the next twelve months."

Accepting the challenge on behalf of the Alumni Association are its president, Phillip S. Woodruff, Wichita, Kans., and its fund chairman, Frederick W. Brown, Sanford, Fla.

Woodruff, a 1970 Embry-Riddle graduate, is area manager for the Middle East and Africa of Cessna Aircraft Company's Commercial Aircraft Marketing Division.

Brown, who was graduated from Embry-Riddle in 1972, is a former United Airlines flight engineer now on active duty with the Air Force Reserve at Andrews AF Base in Maryland.

The challenge to the Parents Association has been accepted by its president, Jack E. Fae, Wyckoff, N.J., and the Parents' Fund chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Avery of Michigantown, Ind.

ATTACHES TOUR ERAU

The Foreign Air Attache Corps, representing 50 nations from around the world, spent the weekend in Daytona Beach as guests of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University and one of its trustees, Col. Clyde J. Tippett.

Accompanied by a U.S. Air Force escort and an Pentagon photographer, the attaches began their official "get acquainted with the U.S." tour at the Embry-Riddle campus Saturday morning. They toured the ERAU flight and academic complexes, then had lunch at the new University Center.

Saturday night, Col. Tippett and ERAU Pres. Jack R. Hunt hosted a party for the attaches, representatives of the aviation industry and state and local leaders. The party was at the ERAU president's residence (the Battleship) on the ocean in Ormond Beach.

Sunday was devoted to a tour of Disney World, golfing and just plain lazing on the beach.

Monday morning the attaches toured the Daytona International Speedway and went for a 100 mph spin on the track, courtesy of Speedway Pres. Bill France, who is also an ERAU trustee; then took another look at Embry-Riddle facilities before lunch at the University Center and their departure by Air Force jet from the Embry-Riddle flight line.

Col. Tippett, Upperville, Va., is a former representative of the South American Regional Office of the International Civil Aviation Organization with diplomatic rank of Ambassador accredited to all Central and South American countries. He and his wife, the former Liz Whitney, breed thoroughbreds at their Llangollen Farm.

Col. and Mrs. Tippett have been hosting the get acquainted party for the air attaches for the past nine years.

HIGH WINDS

By Jeff Coomer

Well, hurricane season is here again, and Embry-Riddle is prepared to act against the worst of storms. If a hurricane or tropical storm was going to hit the Daytona Beach area, all of the training aircraft that are used at Embry-Riddle that could possibly be flown out would be taken to the Air Force base located in Orlando, Florida. There, all of ERAU's aircraft would be put in hangars until the storm was over.

Flight Operations personnel stated that in a previous storm here at the university, over four-teen planes were damaged from high winds. Many of the planes were reported to have suffered bent ailerons.

In the past, it has been recommended that when a storm is going to hit, that the planes here at Riddle be tied and strapped down. Still the planes are going to be out in the hurricane, or storm, and chances of damage would be far greater. So it seems that a definite improvement has been made to guard against high winds.

HOUSING

By Michael A. DeGiglio

Another school year has begun for ERAU's veteran and new students, and so has the tedious task of apartment hunting. The housing office is aiding students who are in the process of finding a suitable place to make a temporary home for themselves. They have listings of apartments, houses, and trailers that are presently for rent. More information is being received through radio advertisements. The Housing Department feels that the students are not having too much trouble getting settled down this year because of the excess amount of rentals. "This is due to the state of economy," explained the secretary. "People seem to be renting more than selling their property."

As far as the repetition of past Riddle students, Housing is receiving phone calls from landlords asking especially for ERAU students.

The dormitory is at its capacity with 350 students, mostly freshmen. Derbyshire Apartments have leased some of their buildings to Embry-Riddle. This is recognized as an extension of the dormitory. Bus service is provided to and from campus. Since they are also filled up with students, ERAU has leased the Nightfall Motel on a temporary basis for all other students having not found a place to live off campus, or who are waiting for a dormitory room to become vacant.

Rent for the dormitory is $297.00 per trimester, including utilities. In comparison, rent could be anywhere from $70.00 to about $200.00 per person off campus.

The puzzling question that still remains is that so much seems to be getting accomplished from Housing's point of view, but ironically there are still many students unable to find a place to live, just as the years before.

BIKE A-THEN is COMING

The Karl Mix Bicycle Path Fund is sponsoring a bike-a-thon Saturday, Sept. 27 at the Daytona International Speedway.

There will be a moto-cross course for children ages 6 - 17 and a road race for ages 8 and up.

Other races will include a Turtle race for children and adults, where the last person over the finish line will win the prize; and a Wheelie contest for children.

There will be three road safety courses for the school children. These courses will teach the safe way to ride bicycles in traffic. Bike paths are to be built in the Halifax area.

Adults can enter all races, except the moto-cross, but will be eligible for prizes in the road and turtle races only.

Prizes will range from safety equipment and T-shirts emblazoned with the KMBPF logo, "I bought a piece of the path!" to trophies.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. The three safety courses have no entry fee. Costs for the road race and turtle race are 50 cents for children and $1.00 for persons 18 years and older. The wheelie contest will cost 10 cents a try. The moto-cross costs $1.50.

Bikes will be inspected for safety before entering the races. Parents who cannot accompany their children may pick up registration forms in advance at the bike path headquarters at 1240 Mason Avenue, Daytona Beach. All children must have these forms signed to enter.

Helmets will be required for the moto-cross race. Some helmets will be provided.

The Karl Mix Bicycle Path Fund, Inc. is a non-profit organization, formed to build safe bike-paths in the Halifax area. It was named in memory of 12-year-old Karl Michael Mix, who was killed in Holly Hill on May 9 of this year while riding his bicycle. His was the fourth bicycle-auto fatality in the county this year.

For more information, call the Karl Mix Bicycle Path Fund, 252-4800.

NOTICE

For anybody interested in joining the ERAU Band Club, there will be an organizational meeting Saturday, Sept. 27, in the Common Purpose Room in the University Center, from 9:30 to 10:30. If you can't make it, leave a note with your phone number and availability on it, and have it put in BOX 5162.

ANYONE missing a bicycle, please contact Security!!!

OPINION

The opinions expressed in this paper are not necessarily those of the university or all members of the student body. Letters appearing in The Avion do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper or its staff.

EDITORIAL

Please note that next week we will begin putting your Avion in your mailbox. This will help reduce our printing cost and financial assistance from the SGA funds.

The beer-wine license has been approved by the town council but the paper work will take at least six weeks to complete.

I would like to see more people wearing their shoulder belts when flying. At this time, unfortunately, the Moonneys don't have them. If you can get used to a lap belt you could give the shoulder belt a try.

The SGA passed a resolution which will bring about more speed bumps in the parking lot. They will now run across the entire width of the lot, and down as far as GRW. Beware!

Dear Editor,

I have some things I would like to say concerning the dormitory. Last spring Kevin Fritch, then the resident manager, graduated, leaving the resident manager job open. John Foster selected a man by the name of G. Martin Keller to take over the job. The dorm staff was told that Mr. Keller would also be a counselor but that his primary job would be that of a full time manager. Since Mr. Keller took over running the dorm none of the administrative problems of the dorm have run smoothly. Two cases illustrate this.

About two weeks ago Mr. Keller left word with a desk clerk to inform another desk clerk to awaken him early the next morning. The first desk clerk notified the second desk clerk only in writing and the second desk clerk did not see the note. As a result, Mr. Keller was not awakened. Mr. Keller decided to discipline the first desk clerk by docking him twenty hours pay. After reconsidering and being informed the wake-up service was only a courtesy and not a policy, he then decided to dock the desk clerk eight hours pay. After this came to the attention of the Director of Housing, the matter was dropped.

The second case developed about a week ago. Starting this fall, half of the first floor North-South wing became all female thereby dividing the wing between a male and a female advisor.

This meant that the two advisors would be paid unequally since the other advisors are paid seventy-five dollars per month. To correct this, Mr. Keller decided to assign some "additional duties" to the two advisors. What he did to the male advisor was unjust because he simply turned over all of the duties of running the dorm to him, but none of the authority or pay. Now Mr. Keller gets paid as the resident manager, lives in the resident manager's apartment, and handles none of the administrative problems. The advisor, on the other hand, runs the dorm with no additional benefits in addition to handling his own duties as advisor.

I feel certain that a survey of dorm personnel will show that they are frustrated and feel that there is a need for change. It is difficult enough to get in contact with Mr. Keller during the day to consult with him. This situation cannot be tolerated much longer.

Frustrated

To the students,

Monday morning our beautiful new University Center was blessed with a lovely brown paper bag campaign poster. On it, the names of Brooks and Slusarczyk, President and Vice-President, SGA.

Immediately we thought back to three and four years ago when the SGA was controlled by the older, authoritarian, representatives of the Vet's Club. Yes, they represented the student body. But today the average student is the "20 year old pre-teenagers who have yet to learn to hold their liquor." (As called by Mr. Slusarczyk in his letter last week.) Can this team represent the students of today?

There was a mixup on the cleanup duties of the TGIF and dance two weeks ago, and when this was noticed we volunteered to clean up. We had a damn good time at both and some spilled beer is expected. The dance floor and pub area were forever crowded. It is evident the students had a good time, which is the objective of today's SGA.

Our Freshman years here were

Dear Editor,

Picture yourself, early in the morning after a night of partying, staggering to the University Center from the dorm for breakfast. You're aware that the ditch, located between the dorm and the University Center is the main challenge. Now, slowly negotiate yourself down the slope. OOPS! Damn it!! Pick yourself up. Ten minutes later, you've made it to the University Center. Of course, this is a little exaggerated.

Mrs. Lamar, who is the director of the University Center, explained during a telephone conversation that when the Center was built (approximately cost-2.2 million) the pavement leading to the dorm was to stop the students from tracking mud. She further stated that the ditch was county property. The decision was made to stop the pavement at the property line instead of continuing it to the dorm.

Vice-President of Planning, Frank Forrest when asked about the ditch, responded, "I'm unfamiliar with the problem, but will look into it." Mr. Fred Willems, director of the Physical Plant said that he had "lined up" six telephone poles to traverse the ditch. On top of them would be planked two-by-sixes. Mr. Willems said that the project would be completed by Friday, September 26.

Johan Kala

littered with formal dances sponsored by the older, authoritarian representatives of the Vet's Club and SGA. We remember 80% of the guys in the dormitory staying home because of not having access to a jacket and tie. This is not representing the students. We would hate to see this happen again.

Today's leadership of Voelker and Gross has a military background, but are still able to represent all the different segments of the student body-Vets, ROTC, fraternities, girls, non-vets, and freaks. Looking out for the students is their main goal. Giving them activities which they would enjoy.

Being Senators of the SGA, we are now planning impeachment proceedings against Mr. Slusarczyk. He is a senator also, but has not attended the last three meetings. Is this representing the students? Mr. Brooks is not a senator of the SGA. Is this representing the students? The answer to both questions is no.

Today's SGA has fought for the students in the University Center, in many areas against the administration, and most important has kept the kegs a'rollin'.

We know it's a mortal sin and a crime punishable by death to spill beer, but let's not cry over it. Forget Brooks and Slusarczyk and vote for Voelker and Gross.

Concerned,
Bill Ellis
Bill Washawanny

P.S. Do you guys realize we drank 10 kegs in one hour, thirty minutes? Too bad we couldn't tap it faster!

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

by SCOTT VOELKER

Many of you already know that the University Center has obtained the ordinance change to allow a beer and wine permit. We didn't obtain a liquor license. It will take from 5 to 6 weeks to obtain the beer and wine license.

You may have read in the Letters to the Editor about how immature our students are. I say boloney to these accusations. Our students are normal, everyday people. You're going to have a few get loose and maybe we are going to have to put a check on these few individuals. The reason why it seems absurd now is that the troubles have touched home. We have always had social functions off campus and the problems never reached the home campus. I have been to many dances sponsored by the SGA off campus and have not seen anything different at our University Center dances. To blame the younger students is really a shame. I believe if any of us see destruction then we should stop it. This University is ours and we should respect it.

"I can assure all my fellow students that we have now taken a giant step backwards in the effort to secure reasonable beer dispensing hours we fought so hard to get." Negative, we have stepped forward, because if we didn't change the hours, 11 a.m. opening, we wouldn't have a pub to drink from. The Executive Board of Trustees used common sense in changing the hours of the pub. The City commissioners talked about that very subject just before the vote. I assure you we wouldn't have our permit without the excellent help from our Board of Trustees. We as students should appreciate these people.

The University hosted fifty Air Attaches this weekend. It was an enjoyable experience and many students participated. Some people question the why's of the President's residence in Ormond Beach. The house is used foremost for public or University relations. You can't imagine how many leaders in the business world stay at the President's house. This is an important aspect in the operation of the University, not only in public relations, but in land value. Since the University bought the house, its value has doubled.

Remember to vote October 1! We need your support to have an effective SGA.

VP THOUGHTS

By Gary Gross

Elections are around the corner, October first to be exact. Please be sure to stop and vote at one of the stations set up around campus.

Mr. Henry is still working on obtaining these picnic tables for the Maintenance Tech hangar which they really need!

There were a few more female forces at the last dance than usual. This was the result of a lot of hard work and help from several people. The Senate invited Weber College, predominantly female, to the dance. The college is two hours away and transportation proved to be a problem until Mr. Henry and Mr. Stafford were kind enough to lend us two Embury-Riddle cars. Of the twenty-one girls who made the trip, all of them assured us they had a great time and plan to come back with more of their friends.

The social functions committee is discussing the possibility of having the Broadway play "Grease" at Peabody auditorium instead of the university center because it would cost a lot more, thereby lowering the price of tickets to the students. They are also discussing the possibility of a pinball tournament, and more movies and dances in the future. In closing remember you don't need to be a senator to be on any of the committees; just a full-time student.

Dear Students,

In my brief term as Senator in the SGA, I have failed in my duty to be as active in letting you know how the SGA is working for you. I now wish to take a few lines to relate to you some of the happenings.

I feel very deeply that the SGA must represent the students. Since the first meeting, I have campaigned actively to see that the students received their money's worth from their SGA fee. The idea of charging a nominal fee for some of our social functions turns people off, including me. However, the financial structure of the SGA does not include a money tree. I have advocated that to give a student value for his fee does not mean a giant give away that benefits a few instead of the majority.

The Broadway play, "Grease", coming up is a good example of this. We could let all the students in free, plus serve refreshments, but does one activity represent a whole trimester's social function calendar? By using good business sense in this matter we will be able to present this function at a reasonable cost to the student and return our entire investment in it to the social functions budget. I feel that the SGA should give the students an opportunity to have good entertainment at a reasonable cost and not just a host of freebies. I'm sure you've been aware of how far money goes in this day of high prices. How much entertainment can you get for $11.00? With proper management the SGA can give you value for your SGA fees.

I am working for betterment of the SGA. It is imperative that we have good officers and senators. We need students to get with it and support the SGA. I was greatly disappointed to see its lack of interest, especially by Senators who did not even bother to show up for meetings. I say to the students to to your Senator and get on their A to do the things you want done!

I feel that in this fall trimester we need strong officers and I am surely biased toward who I want in the SGA office. Everyone should be. I ask you to look, as I have, at the activities of the candidates, as well as promises and flowery statements. In this light, I see we have a candidate for a major office, who, after being in the Senate, has made a majority of meetings. Is this the way a representative serves the students? I sincerely hope not. This is your SGA, not just the SGA of a few but an association of all the students.

I've used quite a bit of lead saying these words which will be for nothing if you the student don't care. The SGA can become just another club or it can represent the students. You decide which!

Bobby J. Parker

Dear Editor,

Art Brooks is presently the President of the Vet's Club. He is also President of the April graduating class by a vote of 4 to 2. This election was held over the summer, when the majority of the April class was home. Of the 511 votes cast, four were cast by December graduates. How can a December graduate dictate who will be the President of the April class?

Mr. Brooks is currently a Justice of the SGA court. If he is elected President of the SGA, how can he effectively administer all these offices?

How can he be totally unbiased in decision - making affecting the majority of the students, when he obviously has commitments to select groups?

Mr. Brooks has done a fine job leading the Vets Club. However, if he becomes SGA President, along with being the President of the April graduating class, we feel that his interest might be spread too thin. We feel that NC-ONE would be able to hold all these positions.

The professional engineering and beer drinking fraternity wants to welcome all you slip-stick sliders and calculator button pushing fanatics back to the happy world of Embry-Riddle. If you don't believe this is a happy world at Riddle come on down to the house and feed "Colossus"—he will MAKE you happy.

The brothers here at Sigma Phi Delta have already made their name known this tri by singing their way down the Halifax river to fame, fortune, and a trophy in the innertube regatta. We would have grabbed all the gold, but Shamer, our trusty steed, lost a tire in the first turn and had to fight valiantly to a still glorious third place finish.

The Vaughn's Back Room Guleycats foolishly challenged us to a world championship volleyball match last Sunday, and were soundly trounced in the rain. We have been asked for a rematch when they will have in their front line some guy who likes to go one on one with oak trees? Maybe we should use Shamer to balance the teams.

If any of you people out there are having trouble with engineering related subjects, come on down! Our tutoring service will see what we can do to help. Stop by the Ivory Tower at 519 S. Ridgewood or talk to anyone of those intelligent looking students with the red and black Sigma Phi Delta shirts on. If you are really desperate, talk to Jim Green at the Gill Robb Wilson Library any day between 12:00 and 3:00 p.m. There will be an open bar, snacks, and entertainment. Wives and dates are welcome at the party.

We feel that our Rush Party will provide you with the opportunity to ask us questions about fraternity life and Sigma Chi. I am looking forward to meeting you.

Enthusiasm is a wonderful word, but more, it is a wonderful feeling. It is a way of life. It is a magic spark that transforms being into living. It makes hard work easy and enjoyable. There is no better remedy for depression, no greater relief for whatever happens to be wrong at the moment, than enthusiasm.

No person who is enthusiastic about his work has anything to fear from life. All the opportunities in the world—and they are as plentiful today as ever—are waiting to be grasped by the people who are in love with what they are doing.

For as long as I can remember, whatever I was doing at the time was the most important thing in the world to me. Today I look forward to my next fight with the same degree of excitement, anticipation, and enthusiasm with which I went into my very first solo.

You have taken a very important step in your life by attending college. It is equally important to get the most out of your college experience. In addition to your desire to learn, your goal should be to grow. We, the men of Sigma Chi, believe that membership in our Fraternity can add a tremendous experience to your college life. You will soon come to realize that we are extremely proud of our Fraternity; it's national strength (there are one hundred and sixty-seven active chapters in the U.S. and Canada), our alumni, some known the world over, our heritage, and of course our position on the campus of Embry-Riddle. The strength in Sigma Chi lies in the diverse interests and accomplishments of its members.

The brothers of the Eta Iota Chapter of Sigma Chi would like to introduce you to our Fraternity. I and my brothers would like to extend a warm and cordial invitation to come to our Rush Party September 27th, 1975. We are located at 520 South Ridgewood Avenue.

Lambda Chi Alpha Rush Party

By Martin Becker

On Friday, September 26, Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity will hold its Fall Trimester rush party. The party starts at 8:30 and we invite everyone to come and join us. Our house is located at 424 S. Ridgewood Avenue (Rt. 1). We have a propeller sitting on our front lawn, so we're pretty easy to spot. If anyone needs a ride, please call us at 252-9502.

Lambda Chi Alpha is one of the largest fraternities in the country. We have been here at ERAU since February 20, 1972. Our members represent all phases of the student body. We have members who are A & P's, Aeronautical Science, Air Studies, Management, and Pilots.

Come and join us Friday night. On Saturday, we will be going canoeing at Tomoka State Park. Again, we invite you to join us for some good times.

U MASS PROVES BAD LANDLORD

(CPS)—In legal action that could claim between two and four million dollars, six students have sued the University of Massachusetts/Amherst for failing to pay interest on the security deposits it requires on college housing.

Although Massachusetts law requires that all landlords pay five percent interest on security deposits and return deposits 30 days after a tenant moves out, the University has failed to do either, the class action suit charges.

If the University loses, it would have to pay each student a penalty of double the interest owed for every year the student has lived in a dorm since 1972, according to an attorney for the students.

An added twist is that U Mass President Robert Wood has been using the interest from the room deposits to pay for his own office. Last year Wood spent more than $250,000 of student deposit interest money to pay for his Boston office—almost $100,000 over what he had been allocated.

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm." (Ralph Waldo Emerson)

Along with many of my more sensitive colleagues, I labored through the unemotional sciences like Logic and Tech. Report Writing, only to find my emotional feelings mumbled.

Contrary to hardened belief, flying is a very emotional art, an art worthy of much respect, care, and feeling. Being enthusiastic and devoted to flight, I shared my joy with you readers in my last article entitled "Pilot News". I received much feedback and decided to elaborate on "enthusiasm".

Emerson was certainly right—but not right enough. Enthusiasm is the key, not only to the achievement of great things, but to the accomplishment of anything that is worthwhile.

Enthusiasm is the key in ROTC. Without it we are going to lose many of our treasured pilot slots, and more importantly, many fine cadets. I have found enthusiasm for work and life to be the most precious ingredient in any recipe for successful living. The greatest feature of this ingredient is that it is available to everyone—within himself. Let's succeed in ROTC.

DELTA CHI

By Big Jim

Fraternity (fra-tur' na-ti). n. [pl.-ties], 1. brotherliness, 2. a group of men joined together by common interests, for fellowship, etc., as in some colleges, 3. a group of people with the same beliefs, work, etc.

Well, that's the way Webster's Dictionary defines it. To me (a new brother) and probably the rest of the brothers here at Delta Chi, it means something a little more. Whether it's something personal or shared by all at a good time function, it's a little more than Webster makes it out to be.

This year we kicked off activities by holding our Fall Smoker at the Common Purpose room of the University Center Wednesday, September 17. Internal workings of the fraternity were shown in a film presentation. After a car caravan back to the house, the "joy" was broken out and flowed to the tuning up of a good time.

That following Saturday, the 20th, we followed up with a "rush" party. Again a lot of joy was poured out by brothers, guests and the bartender. The good time atmosphere lasted well into the night.

For the moment, I would like to thank Perry, Jim, Bo, and Lou to name a few of the many guests that made this good time function a real success.

I would like to thank all the brothers that made these events possible. Also, a special thanks to the University Center people in order.

Interested in sports? Come on out for the Delta Chi football team! Practice is held Monday and Wednesday at 4:00 a.m. across from the administration building.

Interested in us? Drop in or call us up at 252-9429. Someone is always willing to talk or listen.

SCUBA-NEWS

By Jim Skelton

Monday the 22nd was election day for the diving club. After a long and hard-fought (?) campaign, the incumbent officers were re-elected. These well qualified people were elected: President—Ken Stein, Vice-President—Earl Cogan, Secretary—Geoff Robinson, and Treasurer—Ned Richer.

This Sunday the club is going to Manatee State Park on a dive and picnic. If you're interested, there is swimming and snorkeling in case you're not ready to dive. We plan to assemble in the parking lot in front of the Center at 7:15 Sunday and leave at 7:30. BYOP! Bring your own picnic, and come on out!

Now is the time to join. This is probably something you have always wanted to try, "but never got around to." The next meeting is Monday, 6 October, at 5:00 p.m. in the Common Purpose Room at the University Center.

"Maybe the batteries are weak."

(CPS/CHNS)—A curious man in Connecticut started wondering about claims that Clairol made for their hair spray. He read a magazine at which said Final Net "holds hair three times longer than the best-selling spray." So he wrote the company and asked them to prove it.

Three weeks later Clairol responded that the results of comparative testing were "confidential."

His local newspaper, the Manchester Courier-Journal went to Clairol and asked June Fisher, a Clairol consultant, about the company's response.

She explained: "There's just no way we're going to give out confidential material like that. We can't go around giving that out to consumers. Some of these people are a little strange. Advertising is for literary value."

SOCCER WINS!

The Embry-Riddle Soccer team played their first game of the season this past Saturday. The game was played at home against the University of Tampa, who came here really fired up!

In the early going, Tampa ran over Riddle with their speed and agility. With only a few minutes gone, Tampa scored their first goal when a Riddle linebacker accidentally kicked the ball in on a confused play. Tampa again controlled the ball for most of the first half. But their wild manner of play was soon to cost them the game. A very tired Tampa team took the field for the second half and as a result Riddle scored four goals to boost them to a 5-1 victory. The Tampa goalie was ejected from the game after having a temper-tantrum on the field.

Riddle's next games will be this Saturday and Sunday, both at 2:00 p.m. Good luck to the team and keep on winning!!

ADVERTISING FOR LITERARY VALUE

To the Vets Association Used Bookstore.

We entrusted our textbooks to your store early last May. It is our understanding that you receive money for these books when they are sold. WHEN do we receive this money?

Twice we have confirmed that all our books were sold, but yet, no compensation.

Is the Vets Association using our money to gain interest in their local bank account? We hope not.

We are both graduating in December and are planning to leave forwarding addresses, so we can receive our money maybe sometime next year.

Maybe soon, in the future, we will hear students barking titles and prices of books in front of their cars, or better yet, clogging up traffic in front of the new bookstore with a footlocker full of books.

Empty-walleted,

President and Vice-President

FENCING SEASON IS HERE

By Mr. M. Bakst, Fencing Coach

Fencing is a democratic sport today. It can be practiced by men and women, by the short, tall, those who wear glasses, in effect by anyone interested in a way to work off aggressive-ness in a painless manner. It is a great equalizer. We have had U.S. fencing champions who were 5 feet 2 inches tall and others who could have been great basketball centers. Like every sport, it demands effort, time, practice, dedication and all those good things. And for ERAU students, it has some extra benefits. It is a sport practiced in almost every city in the world. The rules are international. No pilot need sit in a hotel lobby on a layover—there is a fencing club nearby anxious to have members, a good way to make friends abroad. It may be done on any flat surface, requires no special courts, and needs only one opponent. Equipment is inexpensive and lasts.

At ERAU we have absolute beginners who have won competitive individual and team awards after only a few months of solid effort. What competitions? Well, as a school activity we are members of the Florida Intercollegiate Fencing Association (FIFA); as individuals, some of our fencers are members of the Amateur Fencing League of America (AFLA) and are thus eligible to compete in individual and in team competitions sponsored by both groups in Florida. There are nine intercollegiate competitions this year plus 17 individual competitions. For the older types (like the coach), there are competitions open only to those. In addition, we will have ERAU intramural events.

There are three weapons used in this sport, and all are taught here. The foil, most popular, the saber, exciting to watch, and the epee (the sport form of the "duel to the death"), all which are exciting to do.

Fencers meet M-W-F, 4-6 p.m. in the Dorm Annex (the building between the Dormitory and Tennis Courts). You need only a pair of sneakers to start. Learning cost is nominal-free (except for your effort). While we meet three times a week, students come when schedules permit, some arriving at 5, others leaving at 5 or missing a session because of flight or class. Obviously, the more time you can devote to the sport, the faster you learn, but our schedule is set to be flexible. Once the fundamentals of footwork are learned, lessons are individual and each fencer progresses at his own speed. Some students have already started, but the door is open at any time for the newly interested.

BOWLING

We had our first night of bowling last Wednesday, 17th, and had a big crowd. We still have room for more but on a first come—first serve basis. We had to go to 5-person teams. If you come out you'll have to plan to get out after 12:00 or 12:30, so if you miss the first night you can still get on a team. It's not too late to have fun! No equipment needed!

For Women Only

National On-Campus Report

A 400-student Women's Studies College at the State U. of New York at Buffalo has come under fire because it bans men from some courses. The U.
president has given the all-female committee which operates the college on a "Collective Democracy" system until mid-October to justify its "for women only" policy in some of its most popular classes.One course from which men are excluded is "Women's Auto Mechanics." Reportedly, it is felt that the presence of men would cause women students to revert to the traditional role of helplessness in mechanics. Another course banning men is
"Women in Contemporary Society," which encourages students to discuss their experiences in a male-dominated society.The college's committee issued a statement saying that the presence of men would have a "profound and destructive effect on courses which give some emphasis to exploring women's lives."

WICHITA, KAN.—Cessna Aircraft Company has introduced its 1976 Skyhawk line with improvements and refinements geared to the requirements of today's businessman pilot.

1976 Skyhawk improvements include a quieter cabin as a result of new soundproofing, a new instrument panel arrangement featuring more efficient grouping of engine instruments and fuel gauges and additional room for avionics installation, TSO'd 300 Series Avionics, plus over a dozen other improvements which add to the Skyhawk's total productivity.

"We've made extensive improvements in the areas which are becoming increasingly important to the businessman pilot," said Cessna Senior Vice President Bob Lair. "Consequently, the 1976 Skyhawk will provide a more comfortable, quiet and serviceable cabin—with an instrument panel which provides for added avionics capability. Both of these can greatly add to the productivity of the Skyhawk and the pilot in today's competitive business environment and sophisticated airways system," noted Lair.

"The Skyhawk has never been more popular than it is today," said Lair. "More and more businessmen are learning to fly to solve their inter-city transportation problems, and the Skyhawk is traditionally the airplane they look to first because of its good cruise speed, excellent fuel economy and comfortable flight characteristics," said Lair.

The dollar saving Skyhawk II will be offered in 1976—and will include as standard equipment a Cessna 300 Nav/Com with 360

1976 Improvements Strengthen Skyhawk

Communication Channels and 160 Navigation Channels with VOR Indicator, dual controls, omni-flash beacon light, alternate static source, Nav light detectors, courtesy lights, pitot heating system, True Airspeed Indicator and a Locator Beacon.

"Over 85 percent of the Skyhawks sold in 1975 were ordered as Skyhawk IIs," said Lair. "The concept of factory finished airplanes and the dollar savings they represent is fast becoming what today's buyers expect."

The Skyhawk II is available with an all TSO'd Nav Pac option, including: TSO'd 300 Nav/Com with 720 Communication Channels and 200 Navigation Channels, TSO'd 300 ADF with BFO and a TSO'd 300 Transponder with altitude reporting capability.

Exterior styling for the Skyhawks in 1976 may be ordered in five major colors with eight accent colors. Standard interiors incorporate new Cortez fabric in five fresh '76 colors, combined with vinyl. Leather can be selected as an option.

Since its introduction in 1956, the Skyhawk has proven to be more popular than any other aircraft in the world. It recently topped 25,000 deliveries. In addition, more than 750 military trainer versions of the Skyhawk, known as the T-41, have been delivered to the U.S. and sixteen other military services throughout the world.

Suggested list prices for the airplanes, f.a.c., Wichita, Kansas are: Skyhawk, $20,750; Skyhawk II, $23,250; Skyhawk II with Nav Pac, $26,950.
